GREATER BOSTON
LEGAL SERVICES
... and justice for all

The Myths and Realities of Identity Change March 11, 2008 • July 14, 2008 • 3:00-4:30pm Eastern Time

Creating a new identity may seem like the ideal way to end the relentless stalking, abuse and harassment often faced by victims of sexual assault, domestic violence and dating violence. However, it is important to consider all of the options and understand the challenges posed by adopting a new identity.

This conference call will explore the risks and benefits of identity change, including:

- ◆ Legal and practical implications of identity change
- ◆ Challenges and obstacles to identity change
- ◆ Effective alternatives to identity change

Please register by March 10th (for the March 11 call) OR by July 11 (for the July 14 call) by clicking or entering the following link into your web browser: <http://tinyurl.com/2q7f63>

This call is open to all OVW grantees*

*This call will occur twice to allow more people to participate. Please select either the March OR the July call.

Relocation and Child Custody May 13, 2008 • 3:00-4:30pm Eastern Time

This conference call will discuss the legal implications of crossing state lines with minor children.

- ◆ When is it safe for survivors to take their children out of state?
- ◆ Can the abuser use the courts to force the children to return?
- ◆ Are there special provisions for domestic violence cases?

Please register by May 12 by clicking or entering the following link into your web browser: <http://tinyurl.com/3y7t9a>

This call is open to all OVW grantees
