Developing a Successful Health Care Response to Domestic Violence
Nancy Durborow, MS
The presentation will address the basic elements as well as working models to assist domestic violence programs and health care systems including hospitals, public health offices, clinics, reproductive health care facilities, and other health care settings to work collaboratively to establish an institutionalized response to domestic violence. This session will assist domestic violence advocates and health care providers in gaining understanding about the health impact of domestic violence, becoming aware of the history of domestic violence health care initiatives throughout the country, building leadership to sustain a response, understanding the health care system’s infrastructures and how they can contribute to strengthening the response to patients experiencing domestic violence, setting realistic goals and objectives and evaluating progress. The presentation will also identify available materials and tools that can assist in developing a successful health care response to domestic violence.

Child Sexual Abuse and Domestic Violence
Robbin Loonan, MA, DVS, LPC
This interactive, experiential workshop is designed for professionals in the field of domestic violence to better understand child sexual abuse, particularly when it co-exists with domestic violence. Both domestic violence and child sexual abuse can have a devastating impact not only on the victim(s) but on the entire family. The impact of abuse spans through the life-cycle and over multiple generations. This workshop will not only provide helpers with a comprehensive understanding of child sexual abuse and its impact on the family, but also a variety of creative intervention strategies.
